Local Vo-School Metal Project

The Hazard Vocational School has undertaken the construction of a number of metal flumes as a cooperative project with the U. S. Forest Service, Central States Forest Experiment Station. The Forest Service is currently engaged in research on the restoration and reforestation of Stripmined areas in eastern Kentucky.

Mr. Robert F. May, Project Leader, and Dr. W. D. Striffler, Hydrologist, indicate that the flumes now being constructed will be used to measure storm runoff from strip mined terraces and outcrops in the Hazard area. By measuring runoff and sediment yield from raw spoil banks, scientists working on the project will be able to evaluate the effects of future stabilization and re-vegetation treatments.

By constructing these flumes, the Hazard Vocational School, not only performs an important service which is presently unavailable elsewhere in the Hazard area, but provides its welding students with a unique training opportunity.

Mr. John Calitri, Welding Instructor at the School, says that the project not only gives the students excellent experience in the fabrication of an unusual shape requiring close tolerance and careful work but also gives them practical experience in blueprint reading and an opportunity to compare the finished product with the complicated blueprint.

Vo-Students Complete Flume Constructed By School

Mr. John Calitri and students of Hazard Vocational School are ready to put the finishing touches to a small one foot flume constructed by the school as a part of the cooperative project undertaken with the U. S. Forest Service, Central States Forest Experiment Station. (See Story elsewhere on this page).

Five Contracts Awarded On Eastern Kentucky Roads

Five Eastern Kentucky highway projects brought apparent low bids totaling more than $4 million on Friday.

The most expensive job involved work on the Hazard-Whitesburg Road and Ky. 15 in Letcher County. Bizzack Brothers Construction Corp., Frankfort was lowest bidder at $1,616,145.

The project calls for grade and drain of 1.278 miles on the Hazard-Whitesburg Road and grade, drain and surfacing of Whitesburg.

On Ky. 15, the contract calls for grade, drain and surfacing extending from near Ky. 588 in Whitesburg to the east .113 of a mile.

The Allen Co., Inc., Winchester, was apparent lowest bidder at $1,135,365 to surface the Prestonsburg-Salyersville Road in Floyd County from the Magoiffin County line to near Ky. 404, a distance of 9.318 miles.

The same firm submitted the apparent lowest bid of $964,489 to surface the Prestonsburg-Salyersville Road in Magoiffin County from near Ky. 114 to the Floyd County line, a distance of 7.115 miles.

On a Breathitt County project The Allen Company again was lowest bidder at $360,051 to surface 2.062 miles of the Camp-to-Hazard Road from Old Ky. 15 northeast of Jackson to Ky. 30 near Quicksand.

M. C. Webb, Danville, offered the apparent lowest bid of $45,098 to grade, drain and surface the Stanger Fork Road in Breathitt County extending east .475 of a mile from near the mouth of Canoe Creek.

Harlan County Judge And Others Charged With Misusing Flood Funds

The Harlan County Judge and three others have been charged by the federal government with diverting over $11,000 of 1963 flood-relief money to their own personal use.

The men are Judge Acey Corbett; Monos O. Laws, a former magistrate; Robert Miller, Jr., part owner of Harlan Farmers Supply Company; and Drew Smith, restaurant and service station operator.

The men have said they are not guilty and that presentation of all the evidence will exonerate them.

The flood-relief money was made available to Harlan County, as it was to several other Eastern Kentucky Counties struck by the 1963 spring flood, when President Kennedy declared the region a disaster area.

A special federal agent investigating the case charged that the men "reported $11,637 as having been spent for various authorized flood relief work, whereas they had actually diverted this sum to their personal use."

Treatment of water wells and bridge repairs were among uses for which the federal funds were intended.

Stabbing, Shooting, Break-ins, Arrests, Reported by Officials

Luke Hogg Injured in Wreck Today;
Stab Victim In Critical Condition

A stabbing, shooting, two break-ins and a record number of arrests of celebrants were noted throughout the weekend holiday period from Thursday throughout Sunday in Perry County, according to local and county officials.

A Perry County man lies in critical condition in Mount Mary Hospital today as a result of a Christmas Night stabbing at the Brown Derby in Lethair.

Perry County Sheriff Charlie Combs reports that Bruce Combs, 22, of Lethair was stabbed twice by 25 year old Grant Combs also of the Lethair Friday night around 6 p.m.

Bruce was cut once near the lungs and once in the lower abdominal section. He reported, "I spent a good night last night but his condition remains critical."

Grant Combs is in Perry County jail charged with cutting and wounding with intent to kill.

Local Robberies

State Police are investigating two robberies that occurred during the holidays. Thieves entered the East Kentucky Beverage Company Sunday morning but other than a broken window where they entered and a missing transistor radio, little damage was done.

Hammonds Grocery at Christoper was looted sometime Thursday morning and considerable goods were taken, along with money from a pinball machine and jukebox. The thieves entered through a back door and left through the front. Unknown persons slid into a power station at Lethairwood over the weekend. State police are investigating.

City Police arrested 31 persons for public drunkenness and four for drunken driving during the holidays. They were lodged in the Hazard City Jail.

State Police report that the radar has been quite a bit of help to them during the long weekend, in helping to prevent accidents from speeding and drunken driving.

Thirty-three persons were placed in the County Jail for drunkenness and two for drunken driving, during the four-day period.

Although fireworks are illegal, both city and county officials report that this was the worst year for firecrackers and other fireworks since the law was passed.

Luke Hogg Injured

Luke Hogg received a broken arm and other minor injuries when the brakes failed on the City Garbage Truck he was driving this morning on Town Mountain. He was traveling towards Hazard and veered off the cliff to keep from going over the steep embankment.

Coal Production Increase Reported

Coal production in the Hazard field amounted to 199,580 tons during the week ended December 19, 1964 bringing the total for the year to date to 8,733,300 tons.

In announcing the figures, the Hazard Coal Operators Association said the week's production was 14.29 per cent above the 174,620 tons mined during the corresponding week last year. Production for the year to date indicates an increase of 2.48 per cent over the 8,521,570 tons at the same date last year.

Small Coal Operators Battle Freight Hike

Washington — Small mine operators in the depressed Appalachian coal fields of Kentucky, Va., and West Virginia asked the Interstate Commerce yesterday to block new railroad-freight rates that they said would give big coal companies a discriminatory economic advantage.

The National Independent Coal Operators Association charged that an unnamed official of the Norfolk and Western Railway had threatened some of its small-mine members with retaliation if they opposed lower rates for "unit train" delivery of coal.

The N.W. denied the charge but the association's petition asked the I.C.C. to withhold publication of the names of the small mine operators "in order to prevent any punitive action" against them.

Competitions Reflected

The dispute was a reflection of bitter competition in the Appalachian coal fields, where a growing number of lowest-cost, non-union, small mining operators have provided jobs for some of the thousands of miners laid off by the large automated coal companies.

Spokesmen for the Small Miners' Association said its members employed about 70,000 of the estimated 350,000 miners left jobless through automation of big mines.

The small mines pay wages of no more than $18 a day, and no royalties to the United Mine Workers' retirement fund. Unionized mines pay $25.25 a day plus the union royalty of 40 cents a ton.

Suspension Sought

The National Independent Coal Operators Association, with headquarters in Pikeville, Ky., noted in its petition that its members are "exclusively located in the Appalachian region," a primary target area of the Johnson Administration's anti-poverty programs.

The association seeks to have the I.C.C. suspend the "unit train" freight rates of railroads carrying coal from the region. The rates are to become effective January 1, 1965 to points serving generating plants of the Virginia Electric Power Company.

Under "unit train" operations a relatively new freight rate system, a consumer of a one-commodity shipment such as coal in effect charters "shuttle trains" from the railroads.

Hopper Cars Leased

Hopper cars in 72-car trains are leased from the carriers and are then used exclusively for "unit train" runs between the points of supply and consumption.

Under the new tariffs for "unit train" coal shipments, rates would be lower than for other shipping arrangements.

The small miners' petition said that they would not be able to supply trainload deliveries and thus could not market their coal competitively. It said the "unit train" freight rates might "determine the very existence" of many small mines.

Christmas In Other Countries Described

Over 200 parents and teachers attended the last meeting of the Hazard PTA for the year 1964 which was held in the cafeteria of the Roy G. Eversole School Monday, December 14, with Mrs. Joe W. Duncan, President, presiding.

The program "Christmas All Over the World" was presented by Mrs. W. P. Morton, Program Chairman and Vice-President, who introduced Mrs. Eugene Brashear, Mrs. G. C. Scholtens, Mrs. Emanuel Jones, Mrs. A. M. Beck and little Miss Denise Shaheen.

The Mixed Chorus of the Hazard High School, under the direction of Mrs. Jane Britton, presented the Christmas Carol "Jesus Rest Your Head" and two Spanish Carols.

Mrs. Eugene Brashear, a teacher at Hazard High School and formerly of Puerto Rico, spoke of the Christmas traditions of the country, stating that Puerto Ricans celebrate Christmas along the same lines as we in America but due to the warm climate they have no evergreens. The school children present pageants in each room, dressed in colorful costumes followed with a parade through the streets. It is also a religious celebration with everyone going to church.

Germany, according to Mrs. Emanuel Jones, celebrates the Christmas season on the 24th and 25th of December and it is also a religious celebration with the Christ Child bringing the Christmas tree at midnight December 24 and leaving the presents under the tree. "December 6," she stated, is the day the Christmas season opens with St. Nicholas coming with a pack of gifts for the children. Relatives and friends exchange presents and a bountiful Christmas dinner is prepared.

Mrs. G. C. Scholtens, who recently returned from Holland and a tour of Europe stated that the Dutch celebration was strictly religious and that gifts were placed in wooden shoes sitting at the doorway.

Denise Shaheen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Toufek Shaheen, formerly of Lebanon, in the absence of her mother, entertained the guests with a poem entitled "Christmas Tradition".

Mrs. A. M. Beck, speaking on the American Tradition, stated that in the sending of Christmas Cards, the exchange of Christmas presents and the hustle and bustle of the Christ-

Sausages with Orange Sauce - Good!

A leisurely Sunday breakfast stars spicy sausages with a fresh Florida orange sauce, and an eye-opening Florida grapefruit half topped with a dollop of your favorite jelly — cranberry, currant, guava or perhaps mint.

Did you know that ancient historical documents show sausages are practically five thousand years old? They are the world's first preserved food — sausage-making being the oldest technique known for preserving meat.

In the recipe below, the sausages are boiled in orange juice, then browned and served with a sauce of orange juice and sections, sugar and cinnamon. The sweet orange flavor blends deliciously with the spiciness of the sausages for a luscious breakfast dish everyone will love.

Mmmmmmm — doesn't this sound worth getting up for?

Sausages With Orange Sauce

3 Florida oranges, sectioned
1 cup Florida orange juice, divided
1 pound link sausages
1/2 cup sugar
1/4 teaspoon cinnamon

To section oranges, cut off peel round and round, spiral fashion, cutting deep enough to remove white membrane. Remove any remaining membrane. Cut along side of each dividing membrane from outside to middle of core. Remove section by section, over bowl to retain juice from fruit. Add additional orange juice if necessary to make 1 cup. Boil sausages in 1/2 cup of the orange juice in large skillet, covered, 5 minutes. Uncover and cook, turning often, until brown, about 10 minutes. Meanwhile combine remaining 1/2 cup orange juice, sugar and cinnamon; bring to a boil. Reduce heat; add orange sections and simmer very gently 5 minutes. Drain sausages and arrange on platter with orange sauce in center.

Perkins Urges School Financing

A concerted and all-out effort to enact Federal legislation to help finance elementary and secondary education was urged today by Representative Carl D. Perkins (D-Ky.) at a luncheon meeting of representatives of national educational organizations and Government officials.

Perkins stressed the importance of united support of all educational groups and associations in the passage of legislation to assure every child in the United States the highest quality education. "In many areas in the Nation," Perkins said, "inadequate local financial resources make it impossible for the school system to have adequate buildings, equipment, instructional materials, and most important — to have enough teachers and to compensate them adequately."

Attending the meeting were Dr. Peter Muirhead, Assistant U. S. Commissioner of Education; Philip Des Marais, Deputy Assistant Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare; Dr. Sam Halperin, Director of Legislative Services for the U. S. Office of Education; Dr. John Lumley, Director of Legislative Department, National Education Association; Charles Lee, Counsel of the Senate Education Subcommittee; H. D. Reed, Jr., Counsel of the House General Education Subcommittee; Oscar V. Rose, Superintendent, Midwest City, Oklahoma.

Cleveland was a city of happiness and celebrations last night after Blanton Collier and his Cleveland Browns won the National Football League Title with a crushing 27-0 win over the Baltimore Colts.

Frank Ryan and the revamped Brown defense were hero's in the Nationally televised contest. Ryan hit Gary Collins with three touchdown passes while the Cleveland defense made the afternoon miserable for Colt star passer Johnny Unitas.

Unitas hit on 12 of 20 for 89 yards while Ryan connected on 11 of 18 for 19 yards and three TD's. Jim Brown, the NFL's greatest runner crushed the Colt defense for 114 yards on 27 carries.

Lou Groza, playing in his eighth title game as a Brown kicked two field goals for Cleveland one coming in the third period covering 43 yards that started the Brown's offensive show.

As Holiday tournaments go there's a spoiler in every one and the Trinity Tournament is no exception. The Knights of E-town Catholic upset tourney favorite Hazard 62-60 Saturday night.

Brad Oliver sank a hook shot with 4 seconds left in the first half to give E-Town a 25-24 lead and incited the Knights for the second half spurge.

Bill Morgan and the "Two Roses" led the Bulldogs in scoring. Morgan tallied 15, Chester Rose got 14, and Jim Rose, benched for lack of hustle in earlier games, collected 14.

Hazard's loss was a big disappointment to head coach Roscoe Shackelford. "I don't mind losing," he said, "if we'd only hustle. With so much potential. This is the laziest bunch I've ever had anything to do with."

"Hazard has never been strong at this time of year, but we've always hustled," were the comments of Shackelford after watching his team lose its second in eight starts.

If you think Kentucky faced a big team in St. Louis last week just wait until you see the size of Notre Dame, UK's opponent in Louisville's Freedom Hall tomorrow night.

The starting Irish are 6' 10" 240-pound Walt Sham in the pivot, 6-8, 235 pound Larry Jezewitz, 6-6, 205 Ron Reed 6-5, 200 Jay Miller and the little man 6-2, 175 Sheffield.

Kentucky, reportedly is on the prowl for a couple of 6-10 junior college centers that will be eligible for cage competition next season.

High School Basketball returns to Memorial Gym after a break for the holidays when Dilce Combs hosts Whitesburg's Yellowjackets tomorrow night.

Action continues on Friday night with Cordia meeting Combs at Memorial Gym. Breathitt County visiting Carr Creek, Leslie County entertaining Harlan at Hyden. Elkhorn City traveling to Fleming-Neon and Tyner paying a visit to Jackson.

Saturday night we see Cordia vs. Napier and Owsley County and Buckhorn meeting at Memorial Gym. Hindman visits Garrett, Lee County pays a call on Breathitt County and McDowell visits Jenkins.

Martin won the Wheelwright Invitational Tournament over the weekend by defeating the host Trojans 64-54 Saturday night.

Tax Agreement Between Two States Announced by Ky.-Va. Commissioners

J. E. Luckett, Kentucky Revenue Commissioner, and C. H. Morrisett, Virginia State Tax Commissioner, today announced that a reciprocal income tax agreement between the two states has been executed. Kentucky and Virginia income tax laws and regulations contain provisions for such an agreement which has been under study for several months.

The agreement, effective for taxable (income) years beginning on and after January 1, 1965, will relieve a large number of workers, who cross state lines to reach their employment, from filing nonresident income tax returns to the state in which they work.

Kentucky residents commuting daily to work in Virginia will be relieved from filing Virginia nonresident income tax returns. Similarly, Virginia residents commuting daily to jobs in Kentucky will no longer have to file Kentucky nonresident income tax returns.

The pact also relieves Kentucky and Virginia employers from withholding state income tax from their commuting non-

Prompting this action, Luckett said, was the desire by the state tax administrators to relieve taxpayers and employers of both states from unnecessary filing of tax returns and withholding of income tax. The tax officials pointed out, however, that with respect to nonwithholding, the agreement applies only to salaries and wages of commuters, and as to relief from filing annual nonresident income tax returns, it applies only to commuters whose only income from Kentucky or Virginia sources is in the form of salaries or wages. Commissioner Luckett emphasized that Kentucky residents working in Virginia must file a Kentucky declaration of estimated income tax for 1965 by April 1, 1965. Virginia residents employed in Kentucky have until May 1, 1965 to file a Virginia declaration of estimated tax for 1965 according to Commissioner Morrisett.

Cawood Calls Basketball

by WHAS Sports Director Cowood Ledford

Before the 1964-65 basketball season got underway, Ken-tucky Coach Adelph Rupp was comparing his current edition of Wildcats to the team he had in 1958. This was indeed, high praise. The '58 team handed the veteran coach his fourth NCAA championship. Coach Rupp pointed out that there was no individual star on that team a half dozen years ago, and that none was likely to develop on his present Wildcat squad.

At the time Coach Rupp was talking, I felt it was just wish-ful thinking. But now with the first third of the season almost gone, this Kentucky team has many similarities with the national titlists of 1958.

That NCAA championship team lost three games in Decem-ber, including its own Invitational Tournament. This team is running on just about the same schedule. December means only one thing . . . national prestige. As the calendar page turns to carry us into 1965, the games are for real. That's when the Wildcats embark on their defense of the Southeastern Con-ference title, and the conference games are the ones that count toward winning a ticket to the 1965 NCAA Tournament.

The SEC appears to be as well-lanced as it has ever been, and some coaches are predicting the league champion could lose as many as four games. Vanderbilt, Tennessee, and Kentucky are being given the best chances for the crown, but clubs like Auburn, Alabama, Florida and Georgia are strong enough to take it all. One SEC coach told me he felt that nine of the eleven teams in the conference were capable of winning the title, counting out only Tulane and Mississippi.

Kentucky is the smallest major college team I have seen since the "big man" made his appearance in the game. Whether they can maintain their enthusiasm while suffering a lot of physical abuse from the bigger teams through a 25 game schedule is another question. But this might be an other edi-tion of the 1958 championship team.

Moonshine Activities Dimmed In State; 72 Stills Destroyed, 88 Arrests Made

Field agents of the State Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control dimmed moonshine activities in Kentucky during the last year with destruction of 72 stills and arrest of 88 persons involved in their operation.

This information comes from a departmental report by A. B. C. Commissioner Harold Mober. He said that for the period from December 10, 1963, to November 15, 1964.

The 28 agents of the field division arrested 219 persons in 200 bootlegging cases.

Approximately 7,000 licenses to sell alcoholic beverages were issued by the board during the 11-month period for fees totalling $815,285.

The board heard 132 cases, 51 of them on appeal. It issued a total of 837 days in license suspensions and revoked four beer and one liquor license.

Moberly concluded his report by saying: "Since our department is a law enforcement and licensing agency, we plan no new program but a continuation of good enforcement and service."

Governor Appoints One; Reappoints Six to State Board of Agriculture

Governor Edward T. Breathitt has appointed one new member and reappointed six others to the nine member State Board of Agriculture.

Named new to the board was Dr. Nelson A. Pott, a Glasgow veterinarian. He succeeds W. E. Blackburn, Pikeville.

Those reappointed were: Mack Walters, Shelbyville; J. R. Miller, Owensboro; William Johnstone, Louisville; Ward W. Boyd, Dover; Joe L. Tighe, Manchester; and Hogan Teater, Lancaster.

Also members of the board are Wendell Butler, State Commissioner of Agriculture, and Bruce Poundstone, director of the Kentucky Agriculture Experiment Station.

Pott, Tighe and Teater are Republicans and the others are Democrats.

The board acts in an advisory capacity to the Commissioner of Agriculture on general agriculture, horticulture, forestry and industry. The board is required by statute to make a biennial report to the General Assembly.

CARD OF THANKS

We would like to express our appreciation for the many acts of kindness shown our family at the time of the death of our father and grandfather, James Fields.

Especially do we thank Reverends Taylor Hamblin, Edward Eversole, J. Hamblin, Denver Eversole and Barney Huff who spoke at the home and Reverends T. G. Bates, John Standifer and Denver Eversole who spoke at the church for their words of comfort. For Paul Campbell and those that sang, Engle's or their services, neighbors and friends for the food, floral contributions, and the many expressions of sympathy extended to us at this time.

We want to especially thank the voluntary pall bearers and those that worked so faithfully at the cemetery and the men who worked on the road so cars could travel it.

May God Bless Each of You: Wife, Children and Grandchildren
